

Bells AI

Digital Assistant

Meet Bells AI™, a digital assistant who's ready to join your team. Bells uses artificial intelligence to help staff like yours save time with data-driven decision making, suggested clinical language and other innovations that cut documentation time in half. Bells is that team member who makes everyone else happier and more productive. Check out some highlights from her resume here:

Accomplishments:

- Saving Clicks Left & Right: 67% Average Note Writing Speed Improvement
- Better & Faster Note Writing: 84% Average Time Gained from Session-to-Sign
- Quicker Billing Turnaround: Over 2.2 Days Faster Reimbursement
- Improve Claims Submission & Acceptance: 16% Average Claims Increase per Provider
- Increase Staff Capacity: 5.2 Hours Saved per Staff per Week

Assisted Data Capture

Bells is an expert at saving your staff clicks! Regardless of what device they use (or even without internet/cell connection), Bells can get important info out of their heads and into the system quickly and easily.

Data Accuracy

Does your staff forget key clinical elements or other important info when they're documenting? No worries. Bells helps check for good, accurate clinical language, and for critical elements like Active Dx, Tx plan goals/objectives and session time. Plus, she corrects spelling and grammar along the way.

Validations & Recommendations

Bells catches potential issues upstream by helping staff in the moment, allowing the billing team and note reviewers to focus on more important things than cleaning up mistakes.

Supervisor Support

Bells helps detect copy-and-pasted notes, overlapping services and other potential issues that your QA/QI team currently looks for manually. She also highlights Admin & Supervisor Dashboards, coaches staff on Unsigned Notes and automatically sends encouragement on work completed.

Rolling out Bells to our team felt like Christmas morning! As an agency we had a goal to cut our documentation time down by 50% and it has surpassed our expectations." Jennifer, CEO

"When we introduced Bells to our team, it was like I brought 20 puppies into the room! They love it." -Brandie, Director of Operations

"I wish I could've had Bells when I was seeing clients and writing notes!"

-Various supervisors and administrators
